

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF NEVADA

Cedric Greene,
Plaintiff,
v.
The People of the State of California,
Defendant.

Case No.: 2:15-cv-300-JAD-PAL

Order Denying Motion for Reconsideration [Doc. 11]

After being declared a vexatious litigant in his home state of California, pro se plaintiff Cedric Greene moved his litigation to Nevada, where he has filed ten cases<sup>1</sup> just this year. By this case, Greene seeks to expunge a 2003 California Superior Court conviction.<sup>2</sup> Magistrate Judge Peggy Leen determined that this district lacks subject matter jurisdiction to entertain that request, and she recommended I dismiss Greene's complaint with prejudice.<sup>3</sup> Greene objected,<sup>4</sup> and I overruled his objections because he "fail[ed] to direct me to any particular portion of Magistrate Judge Leen's report and recommendation he finds objectionable."<sup>5</sup> I also noted that, even if I had grounds to consider Magistrate Judge Leen's findings de novo, I would have adopted them.<sup>6</sup> I dismissed this Greene has not demonstrated that reconsideration is warranted here; he never mentions the merits of my order dismissing this case. His arguments are targeted instead at asking this court to send his case to another jurist: a circuit court other than the Ninth Circuit, or perhaps the chief judge in this district or a Nevada State Court.<sup>12</sup> Greene has offered no authority for this relief, and I decline to grant it. If Greene desires to further challenge my dismissal, he must do so through the appellate process and in accordance with the rules of the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure.
